

MSU DETROIT CENTER

Where Community and University Meet

Michigan State University has long had a presence in Metro Detroit through its strong regional programming and large numbers of alumni residing in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties.

The MSU Detroit Center, located on Woodward Avenue, in the heart of Detroit, is a hub for an array of community programs, research activities, and special events that facilitate the university's engagement in SE Michigan. The 22,000-square-foot facility is housed in the historic Albert Kahn Building. It is available for use by MSU-related groups/units, university partners, and other community organizations.

MSU offers practical support to community development by creating collaborative partnerships among a broad range of disciplines and with external constituents. Several university-based programs operate out of the MSU Detroit Center.

The MSU Detroit Center is home to:

- Admissions

Featured Initiatives

MSU Pre-College Summer Experience Scholarship

The MSU Pre-College Summer Experience Scholarship wants to make a world-class Michigan State University education a reality for Detroit-area youth in Grades 6-12 who live in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, and Washtenaw counties by offering access to MSU Spartan Youth Programs. These summer experiences are made accessible through a scholarship for residential summer programs. MSU is committed to enhancing the student experience and creating a new generation of Spartans through rewarding academic and campus programs.

Pre-College Programming

Students from Detroit are encouraged to attend MSU pre-college programs. Some of the programs are offered in Detroit and others are either commuter or residential programs on MSU's campus in East Lansing. Programs range from music education to writing to engineering, and more.

Detroit Early Honors Experience

MSU Detroit Early Honors Experience is an opportunity for Detroit Public Schools Community District's rising eighth and ninth grade students to explore their city in a new way with hands-on exploration of arts, technology, and sciences. The program, for gifted and talented youth, helps students build college readiness, connect with other students, and meet MSU faculty, staff, and students.
